MEMORANDUM FOR 446 AW/CC

FROM: 62 AW/JA (Maj Torem)

SUBJECT: Commander Directed Report of Investigation of Alleged Homosexual Conduct of Major Margaret Witt, 446 AES

1. This letter memorandum presents my findings of fact, opinions, and recommendations as requested in your letter of 7 July 2004 appointing me to conduct a fact-finding inquiry into alleged homosexual activities by Major Margaret Witt, 446th Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron (AES). In sum, I have reached the conclusion that it IS more likely than not that Maj Witt has engaged in homosexual conduct and has a propensity to do so in the future. As fully explained and supported below by findings of fact and opinions reached through the investigative process, I recommend that you initiate the process to discharge Maj Witt from the United States Air Force in accordance with Air Force Instruction (AFI) 36-3209, Separation and Retirement Procedures for Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve Members, paragraphs 2.30 and 4.12; accordingly, an administrative discharge board should be appointed per AFI 36-3209, para 4.12 through 4.18.

2. Scope and Authority. On 7 July 2004, 4 AF/CC sent a memorandum to 446 AW/CC granting authority to conduct a fact-finding inquiry into alleged homosexual conduct by Major Margaret Witt, 446 AES. That same day, 446 AW/CC appointed the undersigned Major Adam E. Torem, a "Category B" JAG Reservist (IMA) attached to 62 AW/JA, to conduct the inquiry into whether Maj Witt had engaged in homosexual activities and then file a report detailing facts, opinions, and recommendations no later than 23 July 2004 (see Tab 1). In coordination with 446 AW/JA, you subsequently extended this deadline to 20 October 2004.

3. Introduction: Background and Allegations. On 14 June 2004, Mr. Patrick McChesney, a 54 year old civilian man residing in Spokane, Washington, sent an electronic mail message to General John Jumper, HQ USAF/CC. Mr. McChesney alleged that Laurie McChesney, his wife of over 20 years, had left him for another woman in December 2003: Major Margaret Witt. The e-mail contained specific allegations, including the name of Major Witt's previous long-term lesbian partner, Tiffany Jenson, and also focused on Mr. McChesney's anger at Major Witt's adulterous behavior and its impact on his marriage and his family. Attached to the e-mail were several copies of declarations filed in the pending McChesney divorce action which asserted that Laurie McChesney and Maj Witt were engaged in a homosexual extramarital affair (see Tab 2).

General Jumper's staff forwarded this e-mail through AFRC to Maj Witt's command. Review of the e-mail and the information it contained led to 446 AW/CC seeking and receiving approval from 4 AF/CC to initiate this inquiry. Mr. McChesney's e-mail and its allegations raised the following specific issues:

Specific Allegations Investigated

- A.1. Was Maj Witt previously engaged in a long-term committed homosexual relationship with another woman, Tiffany Jenson?
- A.2. If so, did Maj Witt engage in homosexual conduct with Tiffany Jenson?
- B.1. Is Maj Witt now engaged in a homosexual extramarital affair with another woman, Laurie McChesney (complainant Pat McChesney's wife)?
- B.2. If so, is Maj Witt engaging in homosexual conduct with Laurie McChesney?
- C. Has Maj Witt made comments to others indicative of her homosexual orientation?

In accordance with AFI 36-3209, para 2.30.1, as well as the definitions contained in Atch 11 to that regulation, affirmative answers to any of the above questions would constitute homosexual conduct and therefore require Maj Witt's discharge from the U.S. Air Force Reserve.

5. Investigation – Witness Interviews. Following various telephone contacts, an in-person interview of Mr. Patrick McChesney was conducted on 14 Jul 04, at his apartment in Spokane, WA. Shortly thereafter, he provided a sworn written statement dated 19 Jul 04 (see Tab 3). In addition to Mr. McChesney's sworn confirmation of his original allegations, an in-person interview of Ms. Tiffany Jensen, Maj Witt's past lesbian lover for over six years, was also conducted on 14 Jul 04 at a Starbuck's coffee shop in Spokane, WA. Although Ms. Jensen was cooperative and willing to be interviewed regarding her first-hand knowledge of Maj Witt's homosexual conduct, she did not wish to provide a written statement against Maj Witt. Instead, she acknowledged the accuracy of a written summary of her interview (see Tab 4). In sum, these witnesses provided the following information (see actual statements for full details):

5A. Mr. McChesney. He was married to Laurie McChesney for over 22 years. Laurie has worked with Maj Witt in her civilian capacity as a physical therapist for the Spokane Public School District since approximately December 2000; Laurie is Maj Witt's assistant. Within months of beginning to work with Maj Witt, Laurie McChesney informed her husband that Maj Witt was a homosexual and residing with her lesbian lover, Tiffany Jensen. Laurie McChesney and Maj Witt became close friends and the entire McChesney family would socialize with both Maj Witt and Ms. Jensen. Pat McChesney even installed a wireless intranet computer system in Maj Witt's home as recently as November 2003. Shortly thereafter, Maj Witt and Ms. Jensen ended their relationship due to a disagreement over whether or not Ms. Jensen should bear a child. In the weeks thereafter, Laurie McChesney and Maj Witt began to spend more and more time together, making Pat McChesney suspicious of the nature of their relationship. Some time thereafter, in December 2003, Pat McChesney determined that his wife and Maj Witt had initiated a romantic relationship. According to Pat McChesney, his wife actually admitted to other family members that she and Maj Witt were engaged in homosexual acts together. Given these circumstances, Pat McChesney filed for divorce from his wife of over 22 years.

5B. Ms. Jenson. She met Maj Witt in 1996 while they both attended an advanced degree program in physical therapy. In July 1997, Ms. Jenson and Maj Witt became involved in a homosexual relationship. This relationship continued for over six years, until October 2003. During the course of their relationship, Ms. Jenson and Maj Witt engaged in homosexual acts. Ms. Jenson was aware of Maj Witt's service in the Air Force Reserve and, when Maj Witt traveled to the Tacoma area to perform military service, Ms. Jenson would often accompany her and stay off-base, usually at Maj Witt's parents' home in Gig Harbor, WA. Their relationship came to an impasse over Ms. Jenson's desire to have a child, via artificial insemination, and Maj Witt's eventual decision not to go through with such a plan. In early Fall 2003, Ms. Jenson went forward with this plan, announcing to Maj Witt on 31 Oct 03 that she was pregnant; this event drove the actual break-up of the relationship. Since that time, Ms. Jenson observed Maj Witt spend increasingly more time with Laurie McChesney and believes that they began their own romantic relationship before the end of 2003. Ms. Jenson knows that Maj Witt was previously involved in lesbian relationships, including one she personally observed during their time at physical therapy school (immediately preceded their own) and believes that Maj Witt may even have been active as a homosexual during her high school years.

5C. Laurie McChesney. Given her current and ongoing relationship with Major Witt, and in an attempt to maintain the relative secrecy of the investigation, no effort was made to interview Mrs. Laurie McChesney.

5D. Other Potential Witnesses. In his e-mail to Gen Jumper, Pat McChesney submitted copies of unsigned declarations filed in support of an early hearing in his dissolution action. These items were reviewed for background information, but no attempt was made to contact or interview the people involved in the McChesney divorce case.

6a. Investigation – Subject Interview. The subject interview was conducted in accordance with AFI 36-3209, Attachment 11, as well as the procedures recommended in Attachment 4 of the Air Force Commander-Directed Investigation (CDI) Guide dated 1 Feb 00. Thus, Maj Witt was alerted to the reason for the interview and the negative information that had been provided against her, then advised that failure to respond truthfully would be a violation of Article 107 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Maj Witt was given the option of immediately providing a verbal or written response or having time to consider the allegations and, as necessary, seeking military or civilian legal counsel. Maj Witt requested time to collect her thoughts and determine an appropriate course of action. She was told to contact Maj Torem, either personally or through legal counsel, the following week. Two days later, James Lobsenz, a civilian attorney with the Seattle law firm of Carney Badley Spellman retained by Maj Witt, contacted Maj Torem to request copies of any evidence supporting the investigation (see Tab 5a). Due to a delay for personal reasons, Maj Torem was unable to provide the requested information until 8 Sep 04. Maj Torem asked that Mr. Lobsenz and Maj Witt submit any responsive statement no later than 14 Sep 04 (see Tab 5b). Mr. Lobsenz requested additional time to allow consultation with military defense counsel (see Tab 5c) and, eventually, he and Maj Witt decided that she would not make any response to the investigation (see Tab 5d).

FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

6b. Investigation – Observations from Subject Interview. Although Maj Witt did not provide any formal sworn statements, verbal or written, on 25 Jul 04, I was able to make various observations about her reaction to the allegations against her. From the outset, Maj Witt appeared shocked by the suggestion that she had committed homosexual acts. When she learned that Mr. Pat McChesney was the source of the complaint against her, she stated “he’s a lunatic!” Upon learning that Ms. Jenson had confirmed the allegations, Maj Witt became more emotionally upset, turning tearful and red-faced. Expressing frustration, she rhetorically asked “why?” several times and inquired as to whether Ms. Jenson was upset with her for some reason. Maj Witt characterized Ms. Jenson as a “former roommate” and nothing more. During the explanation of her rights under and the processes set out in AFI 36-3209, Maj Witt was tearful and variously repeated “I didn’t do anything wrong” and “I can’t believe this” several times each. At the end of the 45 minutes we spent during the interview in the 446 AES conference room, Maj Witt asked permission to leave the building and not return to her duty station until later that afternoon, after she had a chance to recompose herself. I secured this permission on her behalf and allowed her to depart the area. 446 AES/CCF confirmed Maj Witt’s return to duty later that same afternoon.

7. Findings, Analysis, and Conclusions. Based on a review of the original complaining e-mail and its attached supporting declarations as well as the personal interviews conducted in the course of this investigation, I make the following findings:

7a. Allegations Concerning Maj Witt’s Homosexual Conduct with Tiffany Jenson. I find that it is a fact that Maj Witt and Ms. Jenson were engaged in a long-term romantic homosexual relationship. I further find that it is a fact that during the course of this committed relationship, Maj Witt engaged in homosexual acts with Ms. Jenson. In my opinion, any issue of credibility presented by Mr. McChesney’s clear motivation to avenge the demise of his marriage is overcome by Ms. Jenson’s independent confirmation of his allegations against Maj Witt. When I spoke to Ms. Jenson to arrange our interview, I offered her every opportunity to back out of the in-person appearance we were scheduling for later that week in Spokane. Not only did she appear at that scheduled meeting, she informed me that she had just given birth to her son a mere 10 days prior to our meeting. Although Ms. Jenson was not in agreement with the military’s policy of prohibiting active homosexuals from serving their country, she was upset and disturbed by Maj Witt’s adulterous behavior. Thus, she was supportive of Mr. McChesney’s complaint against her ex-lover. Given no other hint of any alternative motivation to “turn in” Maj Witt for committing homosexual acts, I found Ms. Jenson wholly credible. Recognizing that her unwillingness to provide a written sworn statement could be problematic (for evidentiary concerns) at a future discharge board, I obtained her promise to review my written summary of our interview and make any necessary corrections. Ms. Jenson upheld that promise and recently reaffirmed what we had discussed many weeks earlier. In accordance with AFI 36-3209, para 2.30.1.1 and A11.5.1, these findings alone would be sufficient to justify a recommendation for discharging Maj Witt from the armed forces.

7b. Allegations Regarding Maj Witt’s Homosexual Conduct with Laurie McChesney. I find that it is more likely than not that Maj Witt has engaged in a romantic homosexual relationship with Laurie McChesney, to include the commission of homosexual acts. While the evidence in this area is not nearly as clear as that relating to Maj Witt’s prior relationship with Ms. Jenson, the statements of both Ms. Jenson and Mr. McChesney point to a blossoming relationship between Maj Witt and Laurie McChesney in the latter portion of 2003. This relationship appears to be much more than a work-related friendship, and the declarations submitted with the original complaining e-mail support a conclusion that it is a homosexual relationship.

FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

7c. Allegations Regarding Maj Witt's Comments about her Sexual Orientation. I find that it is NOT more likely than not that Maj Witt made comments that a reasonable person would find indicative of her homosexuality. The portions of her Declaration apparently filed in support of Laurie McChesney in the divorce action (as included with Mr. McChesney's original e-mail) are not of the type contemplated by the definitions contained in AFI 36-3209, para A11.6.9. While one could "read between the lines" and conclude that Maj Witt and Laurie McChesney were lesbian lovers, no evidence was presented or uncovered during the course of this investigation that Maj Witt herself made any direct or open statements in that regard. Further, Mr. McChesney's observation that homosexual couples were present at various social events at Maj Witt's home is not legally sufficient to allow a conclusion that Maj Witt is also a homosexual. Therefore, this allegation should not be relied upon as a basis for discharging Maj Witt from her military service.

8. Recommendation. As noted in Title 10 of the United States Code, Section 654(a), and reiterated in AFI 36-3209, paragraph 1.15.15, "the presence in the armed forces of persons who demonstrate a propensity or intent to engage in homosexual acts would create an unacceptable risk to the high standards of morale, good order and discipline, and unit cohesion that are the essence of military capability." Therefore, after full consideration of the mission detailed to me in my appointment letter, I make the following recommendation:

In accordance with my above-noted findings that it is a fact, or at the very least more likely than not, that Maj Witt is a homosexual who has already engaged in homosexual conduct, and has demonstrated a propensity to engage in homosexual acts, I recommend that 446/CC consult with 446 AW/JA and immediately initiate administrative discharge proceedings against Major Margaret Witt, 446 AES, as mandated by AFI 36-3209, para 2.30.1.

Maj Witt chose not to submit a statement that might have altered the view of the evidence relied upon in reaching this Recommendation.

9. Discharge of Major Witt. The required procedures for discharging Maj Witt are fully explained in AFI 36-3209, specifically para 2.30 through 2.33 and para 4.12 through 4.18. As noted in subparagraph 4.12.2, all officers recommended for discharge for homosexual conduct are given an opportunity to have the case heard by an administrative discharge board. Thus, if you choose to follow my recommendation regarding discharge of Maj Witt, she will have the option of either accepting your discharge notification without a challenge or of demanding a board to review the evidence in this matter. In any case, under the pertinent portions of AFI 36-3209 (see Table 2.1, Rule 33, restricted by para A2.5.4.2), she will most probably receive an honorable discharge because there is no evidence that she committed any homosexual conduct that involved the use of force, threats, intimidation, or non-consensual partners. Despite her probable commission of adultery with Laurie McChesney, a violation under the UCMJ, it is my understanding that it was never the intention of 446 AW/JA to pursue criminal prosecution of Maj Witt for any such offense. Even so, if Maj Witt's immediate commander reviews the evidence and determines that the adulterous behavior described therein is sufficiently aggravating, then a general discharge may be warranted (see AFI 36-3209, para A2.2.2). In this case, the characterization of Maj Witt's service could be used as a negotiating tool to avoid any insistence on her behalf of pursuing the matter to an administrative discharge board.

10. If necessary, I can schedule an appointment to meet with you at your office at any time you deem convenient. I will be able to answer any questions you might have about the conduct of this investigation, as well as its findings and recommendations. In the meantime, please contact me at my civilian office at (360) 753-6291 or via my cell phone at (253) 307-1862 if you have any immediate questions or further directions for me.

Subject: Major Margaret Witt

General John Jumper:

On 1 December 2003 my wife, Laurie McChesney, informed me she was leaving me for Major Margaret Witt, USAF Reserve. Laurie and I had been married for nearly 22 years and had three children, ages 13, 19 and 21 together.

My wife's relationship changed dramatically on 31 October 2003 when Major Witt's then six year lesbian partner, Tiffany Jenson, informed Major Witt that she was pregnant. Tiffany and Major Witt had for some time planned to have Tiffany artificially inseminated. My wife and I were attending a family Halloween party that night. Major Witt called and asked my wife to leave the party. My wife told me her friend Major Witt was despondent, hysterical and suicidal due to the devastating news that Tiffany was pregnant.

Laurie admitted to me and several others in sworn declarations filed in the subsequent divorce proceedings that her friendship with Major Witt became romantic in November 2003. She and Major Witt spent the night together on 31 October 2003, 3 November 2003, 6 November 2003, 8 November 2003 and 31 December 2003 that I am aware of.

I initiated divorce proceedings in an effort to have my wife removed from my home where I was living with my 13 year-old son, S. M. [REDACTED] where my wife continued her adulterous love affair with Major Witt by phone from the home. Laurie told me on several occasions she was going to move in with Major Witt once the divorce was final.

In Laurie's response to the divorce filing, a sworn declaration was submitted by Major Witt on her behalf. In her Declaration Major Witt attempts to paint me as a danger to my son S. [REDACTED] based on my reaction to 1) the devastating news of 1 December 2003 that my wife was a lesbian in love with Major Witt and going to leave me and 2) my reaction two days later on 3 December 2003 when my wife left my home to "get some space" and specifically told me she was NOT going to Major Witt's house. She in fact did go to Major Witt's house, picked her up and the two of them went to another lesbian couples house to spend the night. My wife has specifically told me on her way out of the house she was NOT going to Major Witt's house and told me to call her cell phone if I didn't believe her. Prior to the traumatic news on 1 December, my wife had repeatedly denied to me that her relationship with Major Witt more than just professional. Major Witt and my wife work together daily for the Spokane Public School District.

Major Witt never states in her sworn declaration that her adulterous love affair with my wife and the betrayal of our friendship was the cause of my extreme emotional trauma, the break up of my twenty-two year marriage and my family.

Major Witt also spends considerable time in her declaration portraying herself as the benevolent safe harbor for my son S ■ while portraying me as the dangerous unstable unpredictable ill-tempered father.

In my opinion, Major Witt's adulterous love affair with my wife and the sworn Declaration she filed which clearly contains half-truths, lies and self-serving statements attempting to separate me from my son is amoral and perjurious. I believe she is a potential predator to other heterosexual women in the armed services and her behavior and statements in her sworn declarations demonstrates her willingness to go extreme measures to get what she wants.

It was only after serious consideration over the last few months that I decided to report the conduct of Major Witt to the Air Force. All of those who have been or are currently on active or reserve duty in the armed forces who know of my circumstances encouraged me to report her conduct. I did not consult with my Godfather, Admiral Jackson D Arnold, USN, Ret. due to his age and the recent death of his wife Muriel.

I am willing to provide additional information if the Air Force decides this warrants further investigation. Tiffany Jenson is also willing to provide further information regarding Major Witt including information regarding an affair Major Witt had with a female teacher while attending junior high school.

I believe Major Witt operates out of McChord Air Force base in Tacoma Washington.

----- Summary of Interview with Tiffany Jenson - - - Weds, Sept 14, 2004 -----

My name is Tiffany Jenson. I am 34 years old. I reside in Spokane, Washington. I swear that all of the information I am providing to Major Adam E. Torem in this interview is true and accurate.

I met Margaret Witt in 1996 while attending the physical therapy school at Eastern Washington University. We were both enrolled in a master's degree program. There were about 30 people in our class; our group graduated in December 1998.

At first, Margaret and I were just classmates, but we became romantically involved in a lesbian relationship in July 1997. This was not the first homosexual relationship for me or for Margaret Witt. At the time we became involved, Margaret was just ending another homosexual relationship. Margaret was my second lesbian lover. We engaged in a committed and loving relationship from July 1997 through October 2003. Our relationship included sexual relations and intercourse. For the majority of our relationship, we lived in a home that we owned together in Spokane; the house was titled in Margaret's name, but I owned a portion of the residence. Throughout the course of our six year relationship, Margaret was always fearful of the Air Force discovering our relationship.

My relationship with Margaret came to an end on October 31, 2003, due to my desire to have a family and Margaret's decision not to participate with me in this endeavor. We had previously been in agreement about this and had even identified a friend of her to act as a sperm donor, the intent being for me to undergo artificial insemination and then carry our child. Margaret's friend actually provided his sperm sample to a facility sometime in 2002. In addition, Margaret obtained the necessary blood and communicable disease testing to allow us to go forward with this plan. However, following a visit from Margaret's parents in the summer of 2002, Margaret learned that her family would not support her. She decided that she didn't want to be a parent. Margaret asked that we delay following through on our plan to have a family. I agreed, and Margaret and I attended some counseling sessions together over the course of the next year in an attempt to work things out.

In summer 2003, I decided that I still wanted to be a parent, with or without Margaret. Therefore, in mid-August 2003, I made arrangements to go forward with my plan to have a family. I did not use the sperm sample donated by Margaret's friend, but identified an alternate donor. In mid-October 2003, while Margaret was away performing military duties, I was inseminated. Fortunately, this resulted in my pregnancy and I gave birth to my son, T [REDACTED] on July 4, 2004.

When Margaret and I realized that we would not be able to resolve our differences regarding the desire to have a family, we decided that Margaret would buy me out of my portion of the Spokane home. We had not yet finalized this buy-out on October 31, 2003, when I first informed Margaret of my insemination and positive pregnancy test. In fact, we only worked out the financial details of the buy-out in early 2004.

During my relationship with Margaret, I would accompany her over to the Seattle area when she had weekend military duty at McChord Air Force Base. We would stay at her parents' home in Gig Harbor, Washington. Gloria and Frank Witt are retired school teachers and Margaret had grown up in that area, attending and graduating from Curtis High School in University Place, Washington. In my opinion, Margaret knew she was a lesbian well before she accepted a commission in the U.S. Air Force. I think she may have known when she was still in high school.

In late 2003, it came to my attention that Margaret was spending a lot more time with one of her colleagues from work: Laurie McChesney. They both worked for the Spokane School District, Margaret as a physical therapist and Laurie as her aide. They had developed a close friendship over at least a year, but in Fall 2003 they began to spend a lot more time together. Outside of work, they attended a yoga class together at least one evening per week and then went out together afterwards, to bars or to coffee shops or similar places. My relationship with Margaret was definitely on its way to ending and Margaret was having a hard time with that. Laurie apparently provided some emotional support for Margaret and it later became more than that, turning into a romantic relationship.

On October 31, 2003, I talked with Margaret about Laurie McChesney. At that time, I told her I thought she was spending a lot of time with Laurie. We spoke about it again in early 2004, when we were finalizing the buy-out of the home. Based on the McChesney's pending divorce, I had concluded that Margaret and Laurie had become engaged in a lesbian relationship. When I told this to Margaret, she did not deny it or otherwise protest. I even told Margaret that I thought her decision to engage in the affair with Laurie was devastating to the McChesney marriage and their household, and Margaret did not refute what I was saying to her whatsoever.

Obviously, I do not have any objection to Margaret's homosexual orientation or to her homosexual conduct. I am concerned that Margaret engaged in adultery with another man's wife and contributed to the destruction of a 20+ year marital relationship. If the military wants to do anything to discipline Margaret, I believe that they should focus on her adulterous behavior, not her existence as a lesbian. However, I have been advised of the military's policy on homosexual conduct and I realize that my statements regarding Margaret's homosexual relationships with me and with Laurie McChesney can and probably will be used to terminate her years of service.

Adam:

I reviewed my statement on the email and it is accurate. The only change is that Margie and I co-owned our home legally.

I am sorry to hear about your sister.

Good luck with everything. Let me know if you need anything else from me. Tiffany

STATEMENT OF TIFFANY JENSON

My name is Tiffany Jenson. I am ³⁵~~34~~ years old. I reside in Spokane, Washington.

I met Margaret Witt in 1996 while attending the physical therapy school at Eastern Washington University. We were both enrolled in a master's degree program. There were about 30 people in our class; our group graduated in December 1998.

At first, Margaret and I were just classmates, but we became romantically involved in a lesbian relationship in July 1997. This was not the first homosexual relationship for me or for Margaret Witt. At the time we became involved, Margaret was just ending another homosexual relationship. Margaret was my second lesbian lover. We engaged in a committed and loving relationship from July 1997 through October 2003. Our relationship included sexual relations and intercourse. For the majority of our relationship, we lived in a home that we co-owned together in Spokane. Throughout the course of our six year relationship, Margaret was always fearful of the Air Force discovering our relationship.

My relationship with Margaret came to an end on October 31, 2003, due to my desire to have a family and Margaret's decision not to participate with me in this endeavor. We had previously been in agreement about this and had even identified a friend of her to act as a sperm donor, the intent being for me to undergo artificial insemination and then carry our child. Margaret's friend actually provided his sperm sample to a facility sometime in 2002. In addition, Margaret obtained the necessary blood and communicable disease testing to allow us to go forward with this plan. However, following a visit from Margaret's parents in the summer of 2002, Margaret learned that her family would not support her. She decided that she didn't want to be a parent. Margaret asked that we delay following through on our plan to have a family. I agreed, and Margaret and I attended some counseling sessions together over the course of the next year in an attempt to work things out.

In summer 2003, I decided that I still wanted to be a parent, with or without Margaret. Therefore, in mid-August 2003, I made arrangements to go forward with my plan to have a family. I did not use the sperm sample donated by Margaret's friend, but identified an alternate donor. In mid-October 2003, while Margaret was away performing military duties, I was inseminated. Fortunately, this resulted in my pregnancy and I gave birth to my son, T [REDACTED] on July 4, 2004.

When Margaret and I realized that we would not be able to resolve our differences regarding the desire to have a family, we decided that Margaret would buy me out of my portion of the Spokane home. We had not yet finalized this buy-out on October 31, 2003, when I first informed Margaret of my insemination and positive pregnancy test. In fact, we only worked out the financial details of the buy-out in early 2004.

During my relationship with Margaret, I would accompany her over to the Seattle area when she had weekend military duty at McChord Air Force Base. We would stay at her parents' home in Gig Harbor, Washington. Gloria and Frank Witt are retired school teachers and Margaret had grown up in that area, attending and graduating from Curtis High School in University Place,

Washington. In my opinion, Margaret knew she was a lesbian well before she accepted a commission in the U.S. Air Force. I think she may have known when she was still in high school.

In late 2003, it came to my attention that Margaret was spending a lot more time with one of her colleagues from work: Laurie McChesney. They both worked for the Spokane School District, Margaret as a physical therapist and Laurie as her aide. They had developed a close friendship over at least a year, but in Fall 2003 they began to spend a lot more time together. Outside of work, they attended a yoga class together at least one evening per week and then went out together afterwards, to bars or to coffee shops or similar places. My relationship with Margaret was definitely on its way to ending and Margaret was having a hard time with that. Laurie apparently provided some emotional support for Margaret and it later became more than that, turning into a romantic relationship.

On October 31, 2003, I talked with Margaret about Laurie McChesney. At that time, I told her I thought she was spending a lot of time with Laurie. We spoke about it again in early 2004, when we were finalizing the buy-out of the home. Based on the McChesney's pending divorce, I had concluded that Margaret and Laurie had become engaged in a lesbian relationship. When I told this to Margaret, she did not deny it or otherwise protest. I even told Margaret that I thought her decision to engage in the affair with Laurie was devastating to the McChesney marriage and their household, and Margaret did not refute what I was saying to her whatsoever.

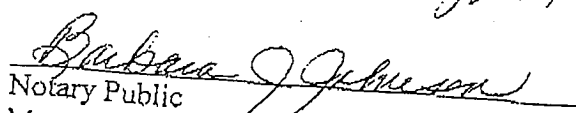

Obviously, I do not have any objection to Margaret's homosexual orientation or to her homosexual conduct. I am concerned that Margaret engaged in adultery with another man's wife and contributed to the destruction of a 20+ year marital relationship. If the military wants to do anything to discipline Margaret, I believe that they should focus on her adulterous behavior, not her existence as a lesbian. However, I have been advised of the military's policy on homosexual conduct and I realize that my statements regarding Margaret's homosexual relationships with me and with Laurie McChesney can and probably will be used to terminate her years of service.

I swear that all the information above in this statement of Tiffany Jenson is true.

IV. STATEMENT

On January 14, 1982, I married Laurie Ann McChesney in San Diego, CA. We have three children by this marriage - A [REDACTED] M [REDACTED] D [REDACTED] M [REDACTED] and S [REDACTED] M [REDACTED], ages 21, 19 and 13 respectively. I have a daughter, Melinda Marie McChesney (age 30) by a previous marriage. I thought my marriage was a secure and loving relationship. I was blindsided by what was about to occur beginning in November 2003.

On December 1, 2003, my wife informed me she was leaving me for Margaret Witt. On January 5, 2004, I filed for divorce in Spokane County, Washington. This divorce is "in progress" for lack of better term and is scheduled for a court hearing on November 15, 2004.

My wife met Margaret Witt in December 2000 when Laurie started working for Spokane Public Schools District 81. Witt is a physical therapist (PT) and Laurie is a PT assistant. I met Margaret sometime in the first year of Laurie's employment. Laurie told me Margaret was a lesbian and was living with another women, Tiffany Jenson, her partner for approximately six years total, since 1997.

Laurie and Margaret were close friends and eventually my family (Laurie, S [REDACTED] & I) would go to Margaret and Tiffany's house and they would come to our house for social events, usually connected with Margaret and Laurie's employment with Spokane Public Schools. I considered Margaret a friend and helped her with technical questions related to computers, set up a wireless internet in her home in early November 2003, even re-arranged the bed in her master bedroom to make it easier for Margaret to get in and out of once she had knee surgery on November 4, 2003. My family would go to Margaret and Tiffany's house on a regular basis to watch The West Wing episodes on Wednesday nights.

In the fall of 2003, Laurie and Margaret started to spend more time together. On October 31, Laurie and I were attending a Halloween party when Margaret called Laurie and told her that Tiffany had gone ahead with a family plan they had worked on for over a year and was pregnant via artificial insemination. Laurie told me Margaret was beside herself. Later, I was told Margaret was suicidal over this news. Margaret was scheduled to have knee surgery on November 4, 2003. She was on a leave of absence from Spokane Public Schools from November 2003 until February or March 2004.

Margaret kicked her pregnant partner Tiffany out of the house they owned together and Laurie became the primary person assisting Margaret in her post-surgery care. Laurie spent several nights at Margie's house in November and December 2003. Once Tiffany was kicked out, Laurie and Margaret's relationship became romantic. I became suspicious of their relationship and told my wife it was affecting our marriage. Laurie denied their relationship was anything but professional until I confronted her with a cell phone bill on December 1, 2003. Background information and a chronology of the November - December time frame is documented in my Reply Declaration dated January 16, 2004 and filed in my divorce action.

When I asked Laurie if she had consummated her lesbian relationship with Margaret in early December, Laurie said she had not. Laurie had told others she had but never admitted it to me. The first family member Laurie told about her romantic relationship with Margaret was my daughter Melinda the day she arrived from Birmingham AL on December 22, 2003 for the Christmas holidays. In a Declaration dated January 15, 2004 prepared by Laurie's cousin, Heather McGuinness, Laurie told Heather she was romantically involved with Margaret beginning in November 2003. In a conversation with Heather in February or March of 2004, Heather told me she had asked Laurie "How is the sex (with Margaret)?" Laurie replied, "Pretty good."

Laurie continued to carry on her relationship with Margaret through the holidays and into January. When Laurie told me she expected me to continue to live in my house in the guest room with my 13 year old son S in his room and Laurie talking to Margaret on her cell phone from the master bedroom and continuing their romantic involvement at Margie's home located in Spokane until the divorce was final in 8 to 10 months, I decided it was time to file for divorce and have Laurie removed from the house.

Laurie told all of the family members and me several times throughout December that she intended to move in with Margaret as soon as the divorce was final and all she needed was a set of bedroom furniture for the second bedroom in Margaret's house for Sam to sleep in.

On January 7, 2004 Laurie was served the divorce papers. Laurie responded to this filing with several declarations, including one filed by Margaret on January 14, 2004. In this Declaration, Margaret attempts to paint me as a person who is unstable, ill tempered and violent. Margaret indicated that I would "blow-up" for reasons unknown. What Margaret never indicated in her Declaration is that the reason for my anger and the divorce was her extramarital lesbian affair with my wife. See her Declaration dated January 14, 2004. In this Declaration, she clearly is attempting to portray me as a danger to my son Sam and paint herself as the benevolent friend who can provide a safe haven for S. Never does she tell the whole truth, that it is her relationship with my wife that is the cause for the break up of my family and my marriage.

Laurie and Margaret have spent the following nights that I am aware of together:

- 31 October 2003
- 3 November 2003
- 6 November 2003
- 8 November 2003
- 31 December 2003

I believe Margaret is now living in my house with my 13-year-old son S at 4604 S Dyer Road, Spokane, WA 99223. I no longer am allowed to drive down my own driveway without permission from my wife as a result of an appeal hearing on February 5, 2004. On January 19, 2004 a court commissioner kicked Laurie out of the house. Her and her attorney appealed this ruling and on February 5, 2004 a judge reversed the commissioners ruling and kicked me out of my house. As a result, Margaret's access to my house is now unfettered.

Since my access to my house is restricted, I do not know for certain if Margaret is living there. I drive by Margaret's house located at 1022 W 19th Ave here is Spokane on my way to swim workout at 6 AM. Margaret's Volvo is rarely if ever in front of her house.

On May 11-12, daughter A spent a couple of nights at Dyer Road with her mother and S. I asked her if Margaret was living at the house. She told me she tried not to notice. She did tell that in addition to Laurie's notation on a calendar on the master bathroom wall indicating when Laurie started her menstrual cycle with the acronym "LSP" (Laurie Starts Period) there was also "MSP" on the calendar which may mean "Margie Starts Period."

I know of at least three trips the two of them have taken together. On March 27-28 weekend, Laurie's nephew was married in Carlsbad CA. Laurie and Margaret took this trip together leaving March 25th and returning March 28th 2004. They also took a trip to Florida together from May 14th through May 25th 2004. There was also a weekend trip they took together in March to the Seattle area, perhaps when Margaret was doing her Air Force Reserve weekend.

It was only after serious consideration over the last few months that I decided to report the conduct of Margaret Witt to the Air Force. All of those who have been or are currently on active or reserve duty in the armed forces that know of my circumstances encouraged me to report her conduct. I decided to report Margaret's conduct to the Air Force because of her adulterous affair with my wife, the betrayal of friendship and the devastation to my marriage and family, and Margaret's self-serving perjurious Declaration attempting to separate me from my son S. Margaret's sexual orientation was not an issue in my decision to report her conduct. I would have done the same thing if a male Air Force officer conducted himself in this manner instead of Margaret Witt. In my opinion, her conduct is dishonorable to the Air Force and unbecoming of an officer.

Dear Major Torem:

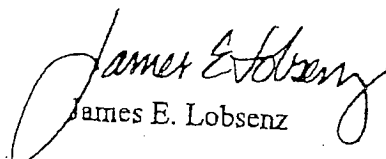

I am writing in response to your phone message which I just received. I have been retained by Major Witt to advise her with respect to your investigation into her conduct. I understand that Major Witt is also entitled to have military defense counsel appointed to advise her as well. On her behalf I am requesting that military counsel be appointed for her. I would like to work with someone with has more familiarity with military law than I do. Although I did once represent an Army soldier in an administrative discharge proceeding, that was over 20 years ago and I have not done one since. It is my understanding that Captain Adrian Ingram will be arriving at Ft. McChord sometime in late August, and will be taking over the area defense duty at that time. However, I would like to have someone appointed to advise Major Witt before that time, if that is at all possible. Please consider this a formal request for such an appointment.

I am requesting that you provide me with information regarding your investigation, the evidence you have gathered, and the nature of the allegations which are under investigation. I can be reached at the address listed above. The quickest way to reach me is by e-mail at Lobsenz@carneylaw.com.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

ADVOCATE, 62 AIRLIFT WING (AMC) AT 253-982-5905

Dear Major Torem:

As you will recall, I first relayed Major Witt's request for the appointment of military counsel on July 27th. I mentioned to you yesterday that I still have not been able to learn whether Captain Ingram, or anyone else from Area Defense Counsel, had been appointed to serve as co-counsel with me in the representation of Major Witt. Acting on your suggestion, yesterday I left messages for both Major Geringer and Captain Jacobsen. Captain Jacobsen returned my call and she told me that Captain Ingram was married on Saturday and is now on a short honeymoon. That may explain why no one is answering the phone at the Area Defense Counsel office at McChord.

Captain Jacobsen suggested that the delay may have been caused by the fact that Major Witt is Air Force Reserve. She said that she thought it could be that the appointment of defense counsel for a reservist has to be made by the command in Atlanta, Georgia. Captain Jacobsen suggested I call Lt. Col Mark Allison, Chief Circuit Defense Counsel, at 707-424-1519.

I called Colonel Allison and left him a message stating that I was hoping to be informed that someone had been appointed. He called back today and as soon as I told him that this was an investigation regarding an administrative discharge, he confirmed that the appointment of defense counsel will have to be made by the Air Force Reserve Command Defense Services in Atlanta. He said he would contact them and urge them to appoint someone quickly. He said he could not appoint Captain Ingram or anyone local.

So the bottom line is I do not yet have any military co-counsel to confer with. I need to confer with co-counsel first before I can decide how best to respond to your inquiry. Therefore, I will not be able to respond to your inquiry by today, as you had hoped. I trust you will delay the completion of your report until I can decide how Major Witt wishes to respond to your inquiry. I

DECLARATION OF MAJ ADAM E. TOREM

I am Adam Erik Torem. I am an Individual Mobility Augmentee (IMA) assigned to 9005 ARS in Denver, Colorado, and attached to the 62d Airlift Wing, McChord AFB, Washington. In late June 2004, I was asked to conduct an investigation into whether or not Major Margaret Witt, a member of the 446 AES at McChord AFB had committed homosexual conduct.

On Wednesday, July 14, 2004, I traveled to Spokane, Washington, and interviewed Tiffany Jenson. Ms. Jenson is a 34 year old woman who had just given birth to a baby boy ten days earlier. I had been told that Ms. Jenson was Maj Witt's lesbian partner for the past several years; Ms. Jenson confirmed this fact and provided additional information about their relationship, as follows:

Ms. Jenson and Maj Witt met in 1996 while attending the physical therapy school at Eastern Washington University. They were both enrolled in a master's degree program and graduated in December 1998. Although at first they were just classmates, they became romantically involved in a lesbian relationship in July 1997. This was not the first homosexual relationship for Ms. Jenson or for Maj Witt and they engaged in a committed and loving relationship from July 1997 through October 2003. They lived together in a home in Spokane. Their relationship included sexual relations and intercourse.

Ms. Jenson's relationship with Maj Witt came to an end on October 31, 2003, due to Ms. Jenson's desire to have a family and Maj Witt's decision not to do so despite a previous agreement with Ms. Jenson. Apparently, a visit from Maj Witt's parents in Summer 2002 changed her mind. A full year of attending counseling could not bring Ms. Jenson and Maj Witt back into agreement.

Therefore, in summer 2003, Ms. Jenson decided that she still wanted to be a parent, with or without Maj Witt. In mid-August 2003, she made arrangements to obtain a sperm sample and was inseminated in mid-October 2003. Ms. Jenson conceived and bore her child on July 4, 2004.

When Maj Witt and Ms. Jenson realized that they would not be able to resolve their differences regarding the desire to have a family, Maj Witt bought out Ms. Jenson's portion of their Spokane home. Ms. Jenson eventually moved out to a new residence.

During Ms. Jenson's relationship with Maj Witt, they would travel together to the Seattle area when Maj Witt had weekend military duty at McChord Air Force Base. They would stay at Maj Witt's parents' home in Gig Harbor, Washington. Ms. Jenson believes that Maj Witt knew herself to be a lesbian well before she accepted her commission in the U.S. Air Force, perhaps as early as in high school.

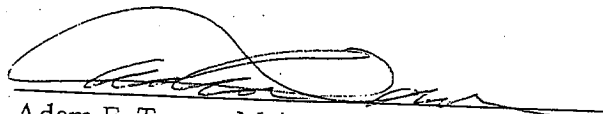

In late 2003, it came to Ms. Jenson's attention that Maj Witt was spending a lot more time with Laurie McChesney, one of Maj Witt's colleagues from work with the Spokane School District. Ms. Jenson had noticed that Maj Witt and Ms. McChesney were attending yoga classes together, going out to bars, and generally spending evenings together. Although Ms. Jenson believed that the two friends were just giving each other emotional support during a tough time, she later learned that the two were developing a romantic relationship. On October 31, 2003, Ms. Jenson talked with Maj Witt about Laurie McChesney and the amount of time they were spending together, but Ms. Jenson did not confront her in any way. Later, in February 2004, Ms. Jenson voiced her opinion that Maj Witt and Ms. McChesney were engaging in a lesbian relationship and Maj Witt did not deny it or otherwise protest. Ms. Jenson expressed her opinion that engaging in an affair that destroyed the McChesney marriage was wrong.

I took copious notes during our interview and later reduced them to a written summary. I found Ms. Jenson to be fully credible in her description of her previous lesbian relationship with Maj Witt. In my mind, it only increased her credibility that she would meet me to discuss the matter only 10 days after having her child and, nearly 2 months later, re-confirm everything that she had told me face-to-face in Spokane.

As Ms. Jenson did not wish to sign a statement against her former lover, on September 8, 2004, I sent her an electronic mail message with the summarized statement and asked her to confirm its accuracy [see Attachment A]. One day later, on September 9, 2004, Ms. Jenson replied to the e-mail and made only one minor correction (regarding the home they owned in Spokane) [see Attachment B]. I included both of these items of electronic correspondence in my Report.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is a true and accurate declaration describing my investigation in this matter. Executed this 10TH day of November, 2004.

- (7) One of the most critical elements in combat capability is unit cohesion, that is, the bonds of trust among individual service members that make the combat effectiveness of a military unit greater than the sum of the combat effectiveness of the individual unit members.
- (8) Military life is fundamentally different from civilian life in that—
 - (A) the extraordinary responsibilities of the armed forces, the unique conditions of military service, and the critical role of unit cohesion, require that the military community, while subject to civilian control, exist as a specialized society; and because members of the armed forces must be ready at all times for worldwide deployment to a combat environment.
 - (B) the military society is characterized by its own laws, rules, customs, and traditions, including numerous restrictions on personal behavior, that would not be acceptable in civilian society.

(12) The worldwide deployment of United States military forces, the international responsibilities of the United States, and the potential for involvement of the armed forces in actual combat routinely make it necessary for members of the armed forces involuntarily to accept living conditions and working conditions that are often spartan, primitive, and characterized by forced intimacy with little or no privacy.

(13) The prohibition against homosexual conduct is a longstanding element of military law that continues to be necessary in the unique circumstances of military service.

(14) The armed forces must maintain personnel policies that exclude persons whose presence in the armed forces would create an unacceptable risk to the armed forces' high standards of morale, good order and discipline, and unit cohesion that are the essence of military capability.

(15) The presence in the armed forces of persons who demonstrate a propensity or intent to engage in homosexual acts would create an unacceptable risk to the high standards of morale, good order and discipline, and unit cohesion that are the essence of military capability.

(b) Policy.— A member of the armed forces shall be separated from the armed forces under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense if one or more of the following findings is made and approved in accordance with procedures set forth in such regulations:

(1) That the member has engaged in, attempted to engage in, or solicited another to engage in a homosexual act or acts unless there are further findings, made and approved in accordance with procedures set forth in such regulations, that the member has demonstrated that—

(C) such conduct was not accomplished by use of force, coercion, or intimidation;

(D) under the particular circumstances of the case, the member's continued presence in the armed forces is consistent with the interests of the armed forces in proper discipline, good order, and morale; and

(E) the member does not have a propensity or intent to engage in homosexual acts.

(2) That the member has stated that he or she is a homosexual or bisexual, or words to that effect, unless there is a further finding, made and approved in accordance with procedures set forth in the regulations, that the member has demonstrated that he or she is not a person who engages in, attempts to engage in, has a propensity to engage in, or intends to engage in homosexual acts.

(3) That the member has married or attempted to marry a person known to be of the same biological sex.

(1) The Secretary of Defense shall ensure that the standards for enlistment and appointment of members of the armed forces reflect the policies set forth in subsection (b).

(2) The documents used to effectuate the enlistment or appointment of a person as a member of the armed forces shall set forth the provisions of subsection (b).

(d) Required Briefings.— The briefings that members of the armed forces receive upon entry into the armed forces and periodically thereafter under section 937 of this title (article 137 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice) shall include a detailed explanation of the applicable laws and regulations governing sexual conduct by members of the armed forces, including the policies prescribed under subsection (b).

(e) Rule of Construction.— Nothing in subsection (b) shall be construed to require that a member of the armed forces be processed for separation from the armed forces when a determination is made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Defense that—

(1) the member engaged in conduct or made statements for the purpose of avoiding or terminating military service; and

(2) separation of the member would not be in the best interest of the armed forces.

(1) The term "homosexual" means a person, regardless of sex, who engages in, attempts to engage in, has a propensity to engage in, or intends to engage in homosexual acts, and includes the terms "gay" and "lesbian".

(2) The term "bisexual" means a person who engages in, attempts to engage in, has a propensity to engage in, or intends to engage in homosexual and heterosexual acts.

(3) The term "homosexual act" means—

(A) any bodily contact, actively undertaken or passively permitted, between members of the same sex for the purpose of satisfying sexual desires; and

(B) any bodily contact which a reasonable person would understand to demonstrate a propensity or intent to engage in an act described in subparagraph (A).

'Don't Ask, Don't Tell' Leads to Nurse's Discharge

Decorated lesbian RN sues the U.S. Air Force.

Major Margaret Witt wants her job back. Once photographed for a nurse-recruitment advertisement, she was a flight nurse and operating room nurse in the U.S. Air Force for 19 years, including a tour of duty in the Persian Gulf. In 2003, after saving the life of a Department of Defense employee who collapsed aboard a flight in Bahrain, Witt was awarded an Air Force Commendation Medal. As standards and evaluations flight commander, she supervised more than 200 flight nurses and medical technicians.

After returning from her unit's Persian Gulf duties in 1995, Witt became a regular air force reservist, while holding civilian jobs as an RN and physical therapist. In 2003 her six-year relationship with a civilian woman came to an end; in 2004 Major Witt, then assigned to McChord Air Force Base in Tacoma, Washington, was informed of an air force investigation of alleged "homosexual conduct." Later that year, as a preliminary to formal separation procedures, she was placed on unpaid leave and barred from performing military duties.

In March 2006 the 42-year-old learned that she was being discharged, and in April the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) in Washington State filed a lawsuit against the air force on her behalf, challenging her dismissal. The ACLU will submit statements from military colleagues, saying that Major Witt's forced absence is harmful to her unit's morale. A discharge from the air force would mean that Witt, according to the lawsuit, "could no longer earn pay and points towards a retirement pension, that she could not participate in any duty pending resolution of her separation action, and that she was no longer eligible for promotion."

Discharges from the armed forces for alleged homosexuality are common, says James Lobsenz, her pro bono ACLU attorney, "but not usually after so many years of service," he says. He expects a lengthy case, with a likely appeal. Lobsenz previously represented an army sergeant who challenged his dismissal for being gay. After a decade, the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that the army could not discharge the man.

In a statement, the Air Force Reserve Corps said, "Before any findings are reached, allegations remain as unsubstantiated allegations and it would be unfair and inappropriate for the Air Force to comment upon any unresolved case."

According to the Servicemembers Legal Defense Network, the "don't ask, don't tell, don't pursue, don't harass" policy has led to the discharge of nearly 10,000 personnel. The ANA opposes the "don't ask, don't tell" policy; at its 2003 annual

"The whole policy seems to be such a waste of talent," says Major Margaret Witt of the U.S. military's "don't ask, don't tell, don't pursue, don't harass" approach to the sexual orientation of service members. Witt was discharged from the air force in April for "homosexual conduct."

meeting, the ANA's House of Delegates directed the association to communicate with Congress, the president, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, "urging the military to abandon discrimination against lesbians and gays."

"I love my job and the people," says Witt. "I've gotten nothing but support from everyone in my unit."

While still enthusiastic, Witt says, "The whole policy seems to be such a waste of talent." And it appears that the air force can hardly afford to lose experienced nurses: the air force reserve had 121 vacancies for flight nurses at the rank of major, as of April.

Lesbian reservist goes to courtFights discharge from military

Richard Roesler
Staff writer
April 13, 2006

SEATTLE – Saying that the U.S. Constitution trumps military regulations, attorneys for lesbian Air Force Reserve Maj. Margaret Witt on Wednesday sought a federal injunction to prevent the service from kicking her out.

"We recognize we have our work cut out for us," said pro-bono attorney Jim Lobsenz. But he said Air Force regulations and this particular statute are unconstitutional.

It is illegal discrimination to ban homosexuals from military service, said another of Witt's lawyers, American Civil Liberties Union attorney Aaron Caplan.

"The United States should not give effect to prejudice," Caplan said. "There are people in the military who are likely bigots, who don't like black people. We don't give in to them."

Witt ()*Advertisement

The case was filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Tacoma.

Supporters of the current policy argue that there are legitimate reasons for it. Given the military's close living conditions, said Center for Military Readiness President Elaine Donnelly, Congress overwhelmingly decided that it wouldn't be appropriate to force people to expose themselves to people sexually attracted to them.

however, from a 2003 Supreme Court decision ruling a Texas sodomy law unconstitutional.

"Liberty presumes an autonomy of self that includes freedom of thought, belief, expression, and certain intimate conduct," Justice Anthony Kennedy wrote in the majority opinion in Lawrence v. Texas.

Witt's case mirrors a still-pending 2004 Massachusetts suit by a dozen homosexual military members seeking reinstatement. Both lawsuits argue that the ban and the military's "don't ask, don't tell" regulations violate the constitutional rights to due process and free speech.

"The 'don't ask, don't tell' policy says you can believe these things in your heart but you can't act on them," said Caplan. "The Lawrence case says 'Get real.'"

Dressed in her Air Force flight suit, Witt faced a phalanx of reporters and news cameras in a Seattle law office Wednesday. She showed them medals and commendations, including one for saving the life of a 60-year-old Defense Department worker who collapsed midflight. Her photo is featured in two recruiting pamphlets for the Air Force nursing program.

A Pacific Lutheran University graduate, Witt joined the Air Force in 1987 after a short stint as an operating-room nurse at Tacoma General Hospital. An active-duty officer for nine years, she became a reservist in 1995. In civilian life, she's a physical therapist in Spokane.

In the summer of 2004, someone apparently told the Air Force that Witt was a lesbian. In a subsequent interview with an Air Force investigator, a civilian woman said that she and Witt "had engaged in a committed and loving relationship from July 1997 through October 2003," according to court paperwork.

On Nov. 4, 2004, Witt was called to her commander's office at McChord Air Force Base. The commander told Witt to stop reporting for reservist duty. The Air Force was discharging her "on grounds of homosexual conduct." Witt was told to pack up her office immediately and leave. Witt said she was stunned and speechless.

"My unit was my extended family, and the Air Force was my extended family," she said.
AF000702

"We don't expect women to routinely bed down and shower" with men they work alongside, she said. "The law basically reflects the desire for human modesty."

And the courts have historically deferred to the military regulations, she said.

"The armed forces are different from the civilian world," Donnelly said.

"I miss it very much ... It's devastating."

Her attorneys have interviewed 10 of her colleagues at the 446th Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron.

"They don't understand why this is being done," said Lobsenz. "They want her back."

"In fact, a lot of them thought she was gay," said Caplan. "Adult woman, never talks about men. And that was fine with them. They didn't care."

Capt. Jennifer Gerhardt, a spokeswoman for McChord's 446th Airlift Wing, said she couldn't discuss the case.

"I can't really comment because of the Privacy Act," she said.

As Witt's attorneys pointed out, many of America's military allies allow openly gay or lesbian troops to serve. Among them: Australia, Canada, Israel, Britain and the Netherlands.

Donnelly's response: "We do not take our law from foreign governments."

Witt is also appealing to the Air Force's Administrative Discharge Board, which is expected to convene a hearing in Georgia soon. But her lawyers say there's little reason for hope there. Under Air Force regulations, they said, the board's main focus will be to decide whether Witt is a lesbian or not. "Nobody's denying that," said Lobsenz.

'Tip' Leads To Lesbian Air Force Nurse's DADT Discharge

by 365Gay.com Newscenter Staff

April 13, 2006 - 11:00 am ET

(Seattle, Washington) For 19 years Major Margaret Witt served the Air Force with distinction. She served in the Persian Gulf, received medals, and was featured in a recruitment flyer for the Air Force Nurse Corps.

But after commanders received an anonymous tip in 2004 that she is a lesbian and in a long-term relationship the military began an investigation that led to her discharge under 'don't ask, don't tell' the military's ban on gays serving openly.

This week Witt began a lawsuit to get back her job. The suit, filed on by the ACLU on her behalf, charges the military acted unconstitutionally and seeks an injunction reversing the discharge.

'Don't ask, don't tell' requires that a commander receive "credible evidence" that a service member is lesbian or gay before beginning an investigation.

"Unfortunately, however, the definition of 'credible evidence' is determined by the command," Steve Ralls, a spokesperson for the Servicemembers Legal Defense Network told 365Gay.com.

"SLDN has represented numerous service members who were investigated based on questionable information, including anonymous emails and accusations made by individuals who were clearly untrustworthy," Ralls said.

"Don't ask, don't tell' has become an effective weapon in the armed forces, where rumor, innuendo and hearsay can mean the end of an otherwise promising career.

Witt joined the Air Force in 1986. She served in the Persian Gulf and in 2003 was awarded an Air Force Commendation Medal for her action in saving the life of a Department of Defense employee who had collapsed aboard a government-chartered flight from Bahrain.

In 1993, she was selected to be the "poster child" for the Air Force Nurse Corps recruitment flyer.

Most recently she was a flight nurse and operating room nurse assigned to McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Washington.

It was while at McChord that her commanding officer began an investigation into her private life after receiving "a tip" from an unidentified source that Witt was in a relationship with another woman, a fact she does not deny.

In November 2004, Major Witt was placed on unpaid leave and told she could no longer participate in any military duties, pending formal separation proceedings. In March 2006, the Air Force informed Major Witt that she was being administratively discharged on grounds of homosexual conduct.

"I joined the Air Force because I wanted to serve my country. I have loved being in the military – my fellow airmen have been my family. I am proud of my career and want to continue doing my job," said Witt. "Wounded people never asked me about my sexual orientation. They were just glad to see me there," she added.

"Major Margaret Witt has been an exemplary member of the military with a distinguished record of service. To discharge her simply because of her sexual orientation is unfair and does not make our military stronger," said ACLU of Washington Executive Director Kathleen Taylor.

In a previous ACLU case, Lobsenz represented Army Sgt. Perry Watkins, who challenged his dismissal from the military for being gay. In 1989, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit ruled that, as a matter of fairness, the Army could not discharge Watkins.

Twelve lesbian and gay former members of the military are involved in a federal suit in Boston seeking reinstatement. Represented by SLDN oral arguments were held last July and a decision is pending.

Lesbian challenges military policy

By Tan Vinh

Seattle Times staff reporter

A decorated McChord Air Force Base major, who was once featured in a national recruiting pamphlet, sued the military Wednesday after she was suspended for being a lesbian.

Expecting her commanding officer to dismiss her after 19 years of service, Margaret Witt, a flight nurse from Spokane, filed an injunction in U.S. District Court in Seattle seeking to prevent her discharge.

Witt's case is one of two active lawsuits, both with local ties, that challenge the constitutionality of the military's ban on openly gay personnel, under a policy known as "don't ask, don't tell." In Boston, a federal court is hearing a case involving a dozen service members, including three from Washington, who want their jobs back.

Dressed in her flight suit and holding her medals and commendation letters, Witt, 42, said that despite the attempts to kick her out of the military, she wants to return to the only life she has known for the past two decades: nine in the Air Force and nearly 10 in the Air Force Reserves.

"My objective really is to go back to my unit, serve my country and help the injured troops that need me at this time," she said at a news conference at the office of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), which filed the suit on her behalf. "My unit is my ... family."

A nursing graduate from Pacific Lutheran University in Parkland, Pierce County, Witt joined the Air Force in March 1987 and quickly rose through the ranks. She was included in a 1993 Air Force recruitment pamphlet carrying the headline "Air Force Nursing makes the difference."

Witt, who is technically still a member of the 446th Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron at McChord, has provided medical assistance and helped transport injured U.S. soldiers and other multinational-coalition forces in the Afghanistan conflict.

Although she never told colleagues about her sexual orientation, her superiors received a tip. According to court documents, in summer 2004, the Air Force began an investigation and interviewed a civilian who said she had been in a sexual relationship with Witt from July 1997 through October 2003.

A year later, the Air Force ruled her "ineligible" for service and promotion, and Witt, now a physical therapist, could no longer earn "pay or points toward a retirement pension," according to court documents. The ACLU said the Air Force has begun the "paper work" to discharge her.

The Air Force declined to comment.

Witt's attorney, Jim Lobsenz, handling the case on behalf of the ACLU, said the U.S. Constitution "trumps other rules," including the military's ban on gays. In the 1980s, Lobsenz won a landmark case when the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the Army could not discharge his client, Sgt. 1st Class Perry Watkins of Tacoma, just because he was gay.

About 650 military personnel were discharged in 2004 because they were gay, according to the Servicemembers Legal Defense Network, an advocacy group that tracks the issue.

Air Force reservist fights discharge for being gay Video

03:19 PM PDT on Wednesday, April 12, 2006

By TONYA MOSLEY / KING 5 News and KING5.com Staff

SEATTLE -

Major Margaret Witt, who is assigned to McChord Air Force Base

near Tacoma, says she exemplified everything the United States Air Force looked for in a flight nurse.

During her 19-year career, Witt served in the Persian Gulf, received several medals, and was even featured in an Air Force Nurse Corps recruitment flyer.

"I did my job to the best of my ability. I did my job well," she said. "Wounded people never asked me about my sexual orientation. They were just glad to see me there."

But Witt says the military's view of her changed in 2004 when she was notified that the Air Force had begun an investigation her sex life.

"It was a complete shock, really. I was in shock," she said.

She says several months later, she was placed on unpaid leave and told she could no longer proceedings. Last month, she was discharged on grounds of "homosexual conduct."

The American Civil Liberties Union of Washington has filed a lawsuit on Witt's behalf.

"Major Witt is gay, but this does not affect her job performance," said ACLU attorney Aaron Caplan.

Witt says her sexual orientation should not determine if she's fit to serve her country.

Caplan said he is confident that Witt will be able to get her job back.

In a previous ACLU case in 1989, Army Sgt. Perry Watkins challenged his dismissal for being gay. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit ruled that, as a matter of fairness, the Army could not discharge Watkins.

"My objective is to go back to my unit, serve my country and help the injured troops that need me," said Witt.

Witt graduated from Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma with a degree in Nursing in 1986 and joined the Air Force the next year. In her civilian life, she works as a physical therapist in Spokane.
